As I had nothing for her to eas she was compelled to take to the highway; and the neighbors were continually crying cost, "Cuss that Smith's cat, she's drunk all my milk." Poor thing she had to steal or die, for she could find no pickings at home, for even the poor mice that were left were so noor and scrappy that it took averagl of them for even the poor mice that were left were so poor and scraggy that it took several of them to make a shadow; and a decent cat would starve to death on an allowance of eighteen per day. But when I reformed, things took a different turn. The kitchen being well provided, the crumbs were plenty; and the old cat grew fat and honest together. Even the mice grew fat and honest together. Even the mice grew fat and oily, and the old tabby would eath a heart mark and the old tabby through a varied country—up lands, low would make a hearty supper on two of them, and then lie down and shooze with the pleasing consolation of knowing that when she awoke there would be a few more left of the same sort. And again: when I was a beer guzzler, mother cried, father oried. Bill cried, Moll cried, and the cat cried. But when I signed the pladge, father sung, mother sung, wife sung, Bill sung, Moll sung, Bet sung, the cat sung, and the kettle sung, and I bought a new frying pan and put a nice piece of beefsteak in it, and placed in on the fire, and that sung, and that's the kind of singing for the working was singing for the working man.

'How are you getting along,' said an acquaintance of mine to a man now engaged in the liquor business. 'O, first rate,' he repliced, thrusting his hand into his left pocket, and pulling out a vial of a deep red colored liquid. 'Do you see that,' said he; 'I just sold 20 gallons, at $2 a gallon, of this good Old Port, and there 'aint a drop of Port Wine in it. I made it myself. It did not cost me fifty cents a gallon.' Then thrusting his left hand into his left cost pocket, he pulled out another vial, clear and sparkling, 'You see that,' said he, 'I just sold a fellow six barrels of this most excellent Jersey Cider at $8 per barrel, and there aint a drop of apple juice in it. I am getting along first-rate, making as much money as I want.
